Thursday of the Lord’s Supper

At Matins.

On Thursday of the Lord’s Supper at Matins let xxxiij. Candles be prepared before the Altar equal to the number of twelve Prophets and xij. Apostles, and let them be lit before Matins, which are to be extinguished one at a time at the beginning of each each Antiphon and R. because the number of the candles are as many as the Antiphons and R R. in the History and they signify the cruelty of the Jews in the accounts of the Prophets and the Apostles. Let it be done likewise on Friday and on Saturday.

At this Matins and thence until Easter day O Lord, open thou. is not said, nor O God, make speed. nor the Invitatory, nor the Hymn, but let the Antiphon be begun in the Superior Grade without kneeling. On this day because of the solemnity of the Lord’s Supper let all the Antiphons until Lauds be begun in the Superior Grade. Let each Versicle be sung by a single boy changing neither place nor vestment. Versicles, Lessons, to be sure, and Responsories together with their Verses are said according to the order of the Clerks as on Sundays. Nevertheless let Gloria Patri. be entirely passed over in silence until Vespers at the Easter Vigil, except only after the seven Penitential Psalms on Thursday of the Lord’s Supper : and after the Officium of the Mass on that day : if a

And let it be responded to on these three nights this way.

R. And judge thou my cause.

Let follow Our Father. and Hail Mary.

And lead us not into temptation. is not said, neither do the Clerks receive a Blessing before the Lessons.

On these three nights let the first three Lessons be made from the Lamentation of Jeremiah, which are sung by three boys in succession this way.

Lect. 1.

- lepb. How doth the ci-ty sit so-li-ta-ry, that was full of people: how is she be-come as a wi-dow: she that was great among the nations, and princess among the provinces, how is she become tri-bu-ta-ry.

Beth. She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her. All her friends have dealt treacherously with her: they are become her enemies.

And let be terminated with this clause the first three Lessons this night and in the following two nights, as can be seen, this way.

Je-ru-sa-lem, Je-ru-sa-lem: re-turn unto the Lord thy God.

_In monte Oliveti._

1. Resp. VIII.

Thursday of the Lord's Supper.

†Let thy wilt.

Lesson ii. Lam. i. 3.-5.

G Ymel. Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest. All her persecutors overtook her: between the straits. Deleth. The ways of Zion do mourn: because none come to the solemn feasts. All her gates are desolate: her priests sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness. He. Her adversaries are the chief, her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions. Her children are gone into captivity: before the enemy. Jerusalem, Jerusalem: return unto the Lord thy God.

Tristis est animan mea.

Take flight: and I, I shall go to be sacrificed for you. V. Behold, the hour is at hand:

and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. †Ye shall.

Third Lesson. Lam. j. 6.

Au. And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

Zai. Jerusalem remembered in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her pleasant things that she had in the days of old: when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her. (Thence adversaries saw her, and did mock at her sabbaths.) Heth. Jerusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is removed. All that honoured her despise her: because they have seen her nakedness, (yea she sigheth, and turneth backward). Teth. Her filthiness is in her skirts: she remembereth not her last end. Therefore she came down wondrously: she had no comforter. O Lord, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himself. Jerusalem, Jerusalem: return unto the Lord thy God.

3. Resp.

Ecce vidimus eum.

Ehold, * we have seen him hav-ing nei-ther comel-ness nor beau-ty: his counte-nance is gone from him: he hath borne our offen-ces, and for us he suffer-eth: but he was wound-ed for our transgres-sions. †And with his stripes we are heal-ed. ¶Surely he hath borne our grieves: and car-ried our sor-rows. †And with.

Let the R. Ecce vidimus, be repeated.

In the second Nocturn.

4. Ant. VII.ii.

ty : the needy also that had no helper. Ps. Give the King. (lxxi./72) [301].

5. Ant. VIII.ii.

Thursday of the Lord's Supper.

Ps. O God, wherefore. (lxxiiij./74) [304].

V. Deliver me, O my God.
R. Out of the hand of the ungodly.

Let the three middle Lessons be made from the Exposition of Psalm 64./lxxiiij. : and let them be read without Pray, sir, give me. and without pronouncing And lead us not.

Fourth Lesson. From the exposition of Augustine, Bishop.

Hear my voice, O God, when I am in trouble : preserve my life from fear of the enemy. Your holiness knoweth, most beloved, our head to be the Lord Jesus Christ : and all cleaving unto him to be members of that head, and his most esteemed voice ye now hear, seeing that it proceedeth not out of the head alone, but also out of the body. Wherefore let us ourselves also say, Hear my voice, O God, when I am in trouble : preserve my life from fear of the enemy. Enemies have raged against the martyrs. For what prayed that voice of Christ's body ? For this it prayed, that they might be delivered from their enemies : and that their enemies might have no power to slay them.

But thou. is not said, but let be made out of the final words of the Lesson by the readers thus.

might have no power to slay them.

Unus ex discipulis.

4. Resp. VIII.

Ne of my discip- ples * shall this day betray me, woe unto that man by whom I am betrayed.

†Better were it for him if he had not been born.

Ver. He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish: the same shall betray me into the hands of sinners.

†Better were it.

Lesson v.

Were they not therefore hearkened to because they were slain: and hath God forsaken his servants of contrite heart, and despised those hoping in him? God forbid! They were hearkened to therefore and were slain: and yet they were delivered from their enemies. For this, then, prayeth the voice of the martyrs, Preserve my life from fear of the enemy. Not evidently that the enemy might not slay me: but that I should not fear an enemy slaying. Deliver me from fear of the enemy: and place me under fear of thee. Let me not fear him that killeth the body: but let me fear him that hath power to cast both body and soul into the hell of fire. For I desire not to be without fear: but that being free from fear of the enemy, I may be a servant under fear of the Lord.
Thursday of the Lord’s Supper.

5. Resp.

Judas mercator pessimus.

U-das, * most e-vil traf-ficker, sought out the Lord with a kiss: he, an inno-cent lamb, refus-ed not the kiss of Ju-das. †For a number of piec-es of sil-ver, he be-tray-ed Christ to the Jews.

V. Made drunk with the poison of a-va-rice: while he thirsted for gain he came to the noose. †For a few.

Lesson vj.

Hou hast hidden me from the gathering together of the froward: and from the insurrection of wicked doers. Now let us contemplate our Head himself. Many martyrs have suffered such things: but none shineth forth thus as the Head of martyrs. In him let us the better behold: what they have endured. For he was hidden from a multitude of malignants, God hiding him, the Son himself and the manhood which he bore hiding his own flesh: because he is the Son of man, and the Son of God. Son of God, being in the form of God: Son of man, being in the form of a servant, having in his power to lay down his life, and to take it up again.

Una hora non potuistis.

6. Resp. VII.

†Or but one hour could ye not watch with me: ye who were-ready to die for me?

†Or se- eth ye not Judas how he sleepeth not, but hasten- eth to betray me to the Jews?

℣. Sleep ye now and take rest: behold, he is at hand that is to betray me. †Or.

Let the Responsory For but one hour. be repeated.

R. Hath laid great wait for me.
Thursday of the Lord’s Supper.

Let the three final Lessons from the Epistle of Paul be read and concluded in the above manner.

Lesson vii. 1. Cor. xii. 20.

Brethren: when ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord’s supper. For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken. What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

Seniores populi consilium.

7. Resp. 1.

He elders * of the people consulted together that they might take Jesus by subtlety, and kill him. †With swords and staves they went out as against a thief. ‡They conceived falsehood within themselves: and they went forth. †With.
Lesson viij. 1. Cor. xj. 23.

For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread: and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

O Juda qui dereliquisti.

8. Resp. VII.

Judas, * who hast forsaken the counsel of peace: and hast taken counsel with the Jews: for thirty pieces of silver thou hast sold the righteous blood. †And hast brought a kiss of peace which thou hast not held in thy heart. ¶ Thou hast

let thy mouth speak wicked-ness: and with thy tongue thou hast set forth de- ceit. †And.

Lesson ix. 1. Cor. xii. 27.

Herefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord’s body. For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep. For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged. But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

Revelabunt celi.

He heaven shall re- veal * the i-niqu-i-ty of Ju- das, and the earth shall rise up a- gainst him:

and the sin of that man shall be made plain in the day of the Lord's wrath. With them who have said unto the Lord God, Depart thou from us: we desire not the knowledge of thy ways. V. He shall be reserved unto the day of destruction: and shall be brought forth unto the day of vengeance. With them.

Let the Responsory The heavens. be repeated.

And let not a V. be said before, but immediately let be introduced the Antiphon at Lauds, and likewise on the two following nights. Let all the Antiphons at Lauds indeed be begun in the Second Form: except the Antiphon on the Psalm Benedictus. which is begun in the Superior Grade.
At Lauds.

Justificeris Domine.

1. Ant. VIII.i.

Ay-est thou be jus- ti-fi- ed, * O Lord, in thy say- ing, and clear when thou art judged. Ps. Have mercy upon me. (l./51) [225].

While this Psalm is sung: let the <remaining> light be hidden away where it cannot be seen.

At the end of the Antiphons at Lauds let all the lights in the Church be extinguished.

Neither let be said the Chapter nor the Versicle.

Ps. Blessed be the Lord. 46*.

And let this preceding Antiphon be begun by the most distinguished person. And thus let the Psalm Benedictus. and all the rest that follows be said in darkness.

At the end of the Antiphon after the Psalm Benedictus. let two Clerkes of the ij. Form before the Altar facing the Choir : not changing vestment sing three times.

Then let two Deacons of the ij. Form not changing vestment : standing before the entrance to the Quire facing the Altar sing.

Lord, have mercy.

Let the Choir continue.

†Christ the Lord be-came o-be-di- ent : e-ven unto death.

Likewise let the two Clerks before the Altar sing once.

Afterwards let two Seniors standing before the Quire Step : not changing vestment, facing the Altar sing the Verse.

Hou who was to suffer didst come for us.
Likewise let the Clerks before the Altar sing.

On this day at the Hours, let not the Clerks kneel in Quire because of the solemnity of the Supper except at the end of Matins only, as is indicated above.

Lesson iii. Augustine. super 3. vers. ps. 63.

Hey whet their tongue like a sword: and shoot out their arrows, even bitter words. For on this account the Jews gave Jesus to Pilate the judge: that they might seem as it were innocent of his death. For when Pilate had said to them, Kill ye him: they answered, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death. They wished the iniquity of their crime to be cast back upon a human judge. But can it be that they deceived God the judge? Surely not.

Vinea mea electa.

4. Resp. VIII.

my vineyard, * my chos-en one, did I not plant thee? †How then art thou turn-ed in-to such bitterness: that thou wouldst cu-ci-fy me and re-lease Barab-bas? ‡I indeed planted thee my chos-en vine-yard, whol-ly a right seed. †How then.
By what he did in the deed, Pilate was in some measure a participant: but in comparison of the Jews he was much more innocent. For he endeavoured insofar as he was able: to deliver him out of their hands. For this reason he brought him before them having been scourged. He scourged Jesus not out of vengeance: but wishing to satisfy their fury, that thus now they might perchance relent and cease to desire to slay him when they saw him scourged. But they whet their tongues like a sword: crying out, Crucify, crucify.

Tanquam ad latronem.

5. Resp. VIII.

Lesson vi.

It must not be overlooked that one evangelist saith that the Lord was crucified at the sixth hour: and another at the third hour. Indeed it is said that at the beginning of the sixth hour Pilate sat down in the judgement seat, and in fact when the Lord was lifted up on the tree: it was the sixth hour. But another evangelist perceiving the mind of the Jews, how they wished themselves to be seen as innocent of the death of the Lord: sheweth them to be guilty by saying that the Lord was crucified at the third hour. But considering the order of the narrative, how many things might have been done: when the Lord was being accused before Pilate that he might be crucified: we find that it may have been the third hour when they cried out, Crucify, crucify.

Let the final three Lessons be read from the Epistle of Paul in the aforementioned way.

Lesson vii. from the Epistle of Paul to the Hebrews. iv. 11.

B Rethren, Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief. For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight : but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

Barrabas latro dimittitur.

7. Resp. II. Ar-abbas, * the thief, is re-leased : and the in-Eeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession. For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

Lesson ix. Heb. v. 1.

For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins: who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity. And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

9. Resp. VII.

Lesson iiiij.

His most great and most holy solemnity, dearly beloved, admonisheth us: that we be exhorted to watching and praying. For in the night of this world our faith striveth: lest the inner eyes of our heart should fall asleep in the night. Lesson v.

His is that enemy which stirred up the insensate Jews, as if his own arms and vessels, against our Lord Jesus Christ: yet he prevailed not against Him. Indeed the enemies after the flesh seemed to themselves to have prevailed: yet in them the spiritual enemy was defeated. For by the offering of pure flesh the unclean spirit was overcome: and by that by which he inflamed men to do openly what he would, he suffered covertly that which he would not. For by slaying Christ he shed the blood: whereby those whom he had slain might be raised to life again, yet neither doth he hold any in death. Indeed he grieved at those joining in rising again: whom he wished to number among the dead.

Therefore, brethren, we celebrate in this life: the death of him in whose life we hope to share after death. Therefore let us humble ourselves, as we call to mind the humiliation of the Lord: humbly let us watch, humbly let us pray, with most pious faith, most steadfast hope, and most fervent charity, considering in how great a brightness it shall be held if our humility turneth night into day.

May God therefore who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, shine in our hearts, that something similar may be wrought within, as we have done in the lighting of lamps in this house of prayer. Let us then adorn the dwelling place of God, of course our conscience: with lamps of rightousness, yet not we, but the grace of God that is with us.

Here let not be made a genuflection at the reading of the Gospel, and let it be read without title: this way.

IN the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And that which followeth.

Nevertheless let the title of the Homily be said in the usual manner, thus. A Homily of the Venerable Bede, Priest.

Homily j. secundi libri.

THE resurrection of our Lord and Saviour hath consecrated for us, most beloved brethren, the vigil of this most holy night: as we have heard in the Gospel lesson. For rightly do we celebrate this night with vigils and hymns for the love of him: who out of love for us willed to spend it in the sleep of death, and to be raised from the dead. For thus saith the Apostle: He died for our offences, and was raised again for our justification.

Lesson viiij.

But where in the Gospel lesson it is said: that the holy women came at the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, to see the sepulchre, it is to be understood that they prepared to come in the evening: but they came to the sepulchre as the morning was dawning in first day of the week. That is, they prepared the spices with which they desired to anoint the body of the Lord in the evening: but the spices which they had prepared in the evening, they brought to the sepulchre in the morning. Which Matthew for the sake of brevity set down obscurely: but the other evangelists shew more clearly the order in which it was done.

Lesson ix.

For on the sixth day of the week when the Lord was buried, the women returning from the tomb prepared spices for as long as it was lawful for them to work: and on the sabbath to be sure they rested according to the commandment, as Luke plainly recordeth. But when the sabbath was over and evening was drawing on, the time for working being returned: being eager in devotion they quickly bought spices, of which they had prepared insufficient (as Mark recordeth), that they might come and anoint him. And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.
