Prayer. O God, the strength of such. 2123. This Prayer is found after the History Vidi Dominum.

Let a Memorial be made if it should have propers of any saint for whom three Lessons ought be made, and afterwards of Corpus Christi on this Sunday only if the Octave shall be without Rulers of the Choir,² and then of the Trinity.

Nevertheless if a Feast of any Saint of ix. Lessons will be celebrated on this Saturday : then let first be made a Memorial of the same : and then the above mentioned Memorials.

At the Memorial of the Trinity is sung the Antiphon Our hope. 1719. with the ℟̄. Let us bless the Father and the Son with the Holy Ghost. 1712.

Prayer. O almighty and everlasting God. 1712.

Then let a Procession go forth before the Rood but without the Cross, for whomsoever the service be made : through the middle of the Quire unless a Double Feast should fall on Sunday or on Saturday. Firstly the Procession is arranged at the Quire Step in this

First Lesson. (Legend. 1. 1. Kings j. 1.)

[172v.]

T Here was a man of Ramathaimsophim, of mount Ephraim, and his name was Elcana, the son of Jeroham, the son of Eliu, the son of Thohu, the son of Suph, an Ephraimite : and he had two wives, the name of one was Anna, and the name of the other Phenenna. Phenenna had children : but Anna had no children. But thou, O Lord, [have mercy upon us].

Second Lesson. (1. Kings j. 3.)

AND this man went up out of his city upon the appointed days to adore and to sacrifice to the Lord of hosts in Silo. And the two sons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, were there priests of the Lord. Now the day came, and Elcana offered sacrifice, and gave to Phenenna his wife, and to all her sons and her daughters, portions : but to Anna he gave one portion with sorrow, because he loved Anna. And the Lord had shut up her womb. But thou, O Lord.

Third Lesson. (1. Kings. j. 6.)

HER rival also afflicted her, and troubled her exceedingly, inso-much that she upbraided her, that the Lord had shut up her womb : and thus she did every year, when the time returned that they went up to the temple of the Lord : and thus she provoked her : but Anna wept, and did not eat. Then said Elcana her husband to her : Anna, why weepest thou ? and why dost thou not eat ? And why dost thou afflict thy heart ? Am not I better to thee than ten children ?

If there should be propers of any Saint from which a Memorial can be made at Vespers, let three middle Lessons be made from thence with the ℣. and Responsories of the First Nocturn. If however proper Lessons are not to be had, let the middle Lessons be made of Corpus Christi, where the Octave is made without Rulers of the Choir, with the ℣. and ℞℞. according to the order of the Nocturns : unless the ℣. and Responsories of the Second Nocturn of the Sunday History cannot be sung on another Sunday or on a feria during duration of the History : as is indicated below : namely in the great rubric. If however it will not be possible to sing the Responsories of the ij. Nocturn within the aforesaid time : then on the First Sunday let all be sung of the History of the Sunday and only a Memorial of the Feast if there be one, and afterwards of the Octave without middle Lessons of the same Saints.

Where the Octave of Corpus Christi is made with Rulers of the Choir all the service is made of the Octave this day : unless a Feast of nine Lessons should occur as is said above.

Fourth Lesson. (1. Kings j. 9.) (Legend 2. which if it be not read this day, shall be read when next the service is of the Temporale.)

§ O Anna arose after she had eaten and drunk in Silo : and Heli the priest sitting upon a stool, before the door of the temple of the Lord : as Anna had her heart full of grief, she prayed to the Lord, shedding many tears, and she made a vow, saying : O Lord of hosts, if thou wilt look down on the affliction of thy servant, and wilt be mindful of me, and not forget thy handmaid, and wilt give to thy servant a man child : I will give him to the Lord all the days of his life, and no razor shall come upon his head. But thou, O Lord.

AND it came to pass, as she multiplied prayers before the Lord, that Heli observed her mouth. Now Anna spoke in her heart, and only her lips moved, but her voice was not heard at all. Heli therefore thought her to be drunk, and said to her : How long wilt thou be drunk ? digest a little the wine, of which thou hast taken too much. Anna answering, said : Not so, my lord : for I am an exceeding unhappy woman, and have drunk neither wine nor any strong drink, but I have poured out

At this Vespers let no Memorial be made except of the Octave of Corpus Christi³⁵ : and unless it shall fall within any Octave, and unless a Feast of iij. Lessons shall fall on the morrow : then indeed let a Memorial be made of the same Feast and of this type of Octave.

If however a Feast of nine Lessons should fall on the Monday itself or is to be celebrated on a Monday instead of the Sunday on account of the beginning of a History then Vespers of the feast is made on the Sunday : with a Memorial of the Sunday unless by chance the Sunday itself be without its First Vespers : then indeed let it have as usual its own second Vespers. Let it be made likewise on all Sundays until the Advent of the Lord as is fully indicated below.

¶ Monday and all ferias until the Advent of the Lord : for the Invitatory, the Antiphon and Psalm and V̄V̄. let the order be preserved as on the ferias after the History Domine ne in ira. However let the Hymn at Matins and at Lauds and at Vespers be sung as on the immediately preceding Sunday whether on Sundays or on ferias until the Advent of the Lord when the service is of the Temporale.

¶ To be sure at Matins on ferias until the Advent of the Lord let the Responsories of the History of the Sunday be sung : according to the order of the Nocturns. In such a way that the ferial R̄R̄. be not omitted if they can conveniently be sung there or elsewhere as is indicated above on Wednesday in the first Week of the Advent of the Lord.

¶ If only one feria or two ferias should be vacant : in that case let the ferial Responsories be sung together or separately. Indeed when the Responsories of the iij. Nocturn are said then let the third R̄. be one of the ferial ones. Never should three ferial responsories be said at the same time, nor should three ferial responsories be said before the whole of the History is sung. When however no feria is vacant then let <them> all be omitted. And if there be three ferial Responsories that should be sung on a single feria of this period : let one be omitted unless two ferias shall be vacant.

[From this day until the Advent of the Lord whether on ferias or on Feasts of iij. Lessons without Rulers of the Choir and on Octaves and within when the Choir is not ruled are said these three Memorials namely of the Cross, of Saint Mary and of All Saints. When however any Feast of the Saints should fall on a Feast of iij. Lessons then first let a Memorial be made of the Saint and afterwards the Memorials as indicated above.]³⁶

Lesson j. 1. Kings. j. (19.) Legend 3.

ND Elcana knew Anna his wife : and the Lord remembered her. And it came to pass, when the time was come about, Anna conceived and bore a son, and called his name Samuel : because she had asked him of the Lord. And Elcana her husband went up, and all his house, to offer to the Lord the solemn sacrifice, and his vow. But Anna went not up : for she said to her husband, I will not go till the child be weaned, and till I may carry him, that he may appear before the Lord, and may abide always there. And Elcana her husband said to her :

Do what seemeth good to thee, and stay till thou wean him : and I pray that the Lord may fulfil his word.

Lesson ij. (1. Kings j. 23.)

SO the woman stayed at home, and gave her son suck, till she weaned him. And after she had weaned him, she carried him with her, with three calves, and three bushels of flour, and a bottle of wine, and she brought him to the house of the Lord in Silo. Now the child was as yet very young. And they immolated a calf, and offered the child to Heli. And Anna said : I beseech thee, my lord, as thy soul liveth, my lord : I am that woman who stood before thee here praying to the Lord. For this child did I pray, and the Lord hath granted me my petition, which I asked of him. Therefore I also have lent him to the Lord all the days of his life, he shall be lent to the Lord.

Lesson iij. 1. Kings ij. (11.)

BUT the child ministered in the sight of the Lord before the face of Heli the priest. Now the sons of Heli were children of Belial, not knowing the Lord, nor the office of the priests to the people : but whosoever had offered sacrifice, the servant of the priest came, while the flesh was in boiling, with a fleshhook of three teeth in his hand, and thrust it into the kettle, or into the caldron, or into the pot, or into the pan : and all that the fleshhook brought up, the priest took to himself. Thus they did to all Israel that came to Silo.

Lesson j. 1. Kings ij. (16.) Legend 4.

HE priest's servant said to him that sacrificed, Let the fat first be burnt today according to the custom, and then take as much as thy soul desireth. But he answered and said to him :

Not so : but thou shalt give it me now, or else I will take it by force. Wherefore the sin of the young men was exceeding great before the Lord : because they withdrew men from the sacrifice of the Lord.

The First Sunday after the Trinity.

Lesson ij. (1. Kings ij. 18.)

BUT Samuel ministered before the face of the Lord : being a child girded with a linen ephod. And his mother made him a little coat, which she brought to him on the appointed days, when she went up with her husband, to offer the solemn sacrifice. And Heli blessed Elcana and his wife : and he said to him :

The Lord give thee seed of this woman, for the loan thou hast lent to the Lord. And they went to their own home. And the Lord visited Anna, and she conceived, and bore three sons and two daughters : and the child Samuel became great before the Lord.

Lectio iij. (1. Kings ij. 22.)

NOW Heli was very old, and he heard all that his sons did to all Israel : and how they lay with the women that waited at the door of the tabernacle : and he said to them : Why do ye these kinds of things, which I hear, very wicked things, from all the people ? Do not so, my sons ; for it is no good report that I hear, that you make the people of the Lord to transgress. If one man shall sin against another, God may be appeased in his behalf : but if a man shall sin against the Lord, who shall pray for him ? And they hearkened not to the voice of their father, because the Lord would slay them. But thou, O Lord.
