Ps. I have loved.

Psalm (cxitij.) Dilexi quoniam.

I have loved : because the Lord will hear the voice of my prayer.

Because he hath inclined his ear unto me : and in my days I will call upon him.

The sorrows of death have compassed me : and the perils of hell have found me.

I met with trouble and sorrow : and I called upon the name of the Lord.

O Lord, deliver my soul ; the Lord is merciful and just : and our God sheweth mercy.

The Lord is the keeper of little ones : I was humbled, and he delivered me.

Turn, O my soul, into thy rest : for the Lord hath been bountiful to thee.
In the Vigils of the Dead.

For he hath delivered my soul from death: my eyes from tears, my feet from falling.

Let not the final Verse of this Psalm, that is I will please, be sung, but immediately in its place let the Antiphon be sung according to the Use [of the Church] of Sarum.

℣. Let us pray.

깄 When the body is present of whomever it may be, this Prayer is said both at Placebo. and at Dirige. [according to the Use of Sarum.]uguay

Prayer. [Major.]

God, whose property is ever to have mercy and to spare, we humbly entreat thee for the soul of thy servant or handmaid whom thou hast bidden this day to pass out of this world: that thou wouldst not deliver him or her into the hands of the enemy: neither forget him or her for ever: but command him or her to be taken up by thy holy Angels, and to be borne into the land of the living: that as he or she had put his or her faith and hope in thee: he or she may merit to rejoice in the fellowship of thy Saints. Through our Lord.

泅 On the thirtieth day for whomever it shall be this Prayer is said at Placebo. 10

Prayer. [Minor.]

God, whose property is always to have mercy and to spare, be favourable to the soul of thy servant or of thy handmaid and dismiss all his or her sins: that being delivered from the bonds of mortality, he or she may be found worthy to enter into life. 12

泅 On anniversaries of whomever it shall be this Prayer is said at Placebo.

Prayer.

God, the Lord of forgiveness: grant to thy servant or thy handmaid, the anniversary of whose burial we to-day commemorate: a place of refreshment, the happiness of rest, and the brightness of thy light.
In the Vigils of the Dead.

For a departed Bishop [only] this Prayer is said at Placebo.

Prayer.

God, who among the Apostolic Priests, hast bestowed on thy servants the Pontifical Dignity: governed for a season on earth: they may rejoice in perpetual fellowship in heaven.

For brothers and sisters [departed only] this Prayer is said at Placebo.

Prayer.

God, giver of pardon, and lover of the salvation of mankind, we beseech thy mercy, that our congregation of brothers and sisters, which have departed out of this world: blessed Mary ever Virgin interceding: and blessed Michael the Archangel with all the Saints: may come to the fellowship of everlasting bliss.

General Prayer [this day at all the Hours and on other services of the Dead] at Placebo. [only.

Prayer.]16

God, the Creator and Redeemer of all the faithful: grant to the souls of all the faithful departed the remission of all their sins: that through pious supplications they may obtain that pardon which they have always desired. [Which is concluded thus.]17 Who with God the Father, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, livest and reignest God.

World without end. R. Amen.

[Here let not be said The Lord be with you. but on this day let the Priest say thus.]19

Let not be said Bid, [lord, a blessing].

Pare me, O Lord : for my days are nothing. What is a man that thou shouldst magnify him, or why dost thou set thy heart upon him? Thou visitest him early in the morning, and thou provest him suddenly. How long wilt thou not spare me, nor suffer me to swallow down my spittle? I have sinned:

what shall I do to thee, O keeper of men? why hast thou set me opposite thee, and I am become burdensome to myself? Why dost thou not remove my sin, and why dost thou not take away my iniquity? Behold now I shall sleep in the dust: and if thou seek me in the morning, I shall not be. Let But thou. not be said.

Second Lesson. Job. 10. (1.).

Y soul is weary of my life, I will let go my speech against myself, I will speak in the bitterness of my soul. I will say to God, Do not condemn me : tell me why thou judgest me so. Doth it seem good to thee that thou shouldst calumniate me, and oppress me, the work of thy own hands, and help the counsel of the wicked ? Hast thou eyes of flesh : or, shalt thou see as man seeth ? Are thy years as the times of men : that thou shouldst inquire after my iniquity, and search after my sin ? Third Lesson. Job. 10. (8.)

THY hands have made me, and fashioned me wholly round about, and dost thou thus cast me down headlong on a sudden? Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me as the clay, and thou wilt bring me into dust again. Hast thou not milked me as milk, and curled me like cheese? Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh: thou hast put me together with bones and sinews: thou hast granted me life and mercy, and thy visitation hath preserved my spirit.

Lesson iiiij. Job. xiiij. (23.)

Ow many are my iniquities and sins? make me know my crimes and offences. Why hidest thou thy face, and thinkest me thy enemy? Against a leaf, that is carried away with the wind, thou shewest thy power, and thou pursuest a dry straw. For thou writest bitter things against me, and wilt consume me for the sins of my youth. Thou hast put my feet in the stocks, and hast observed all my paths, and hast considered the steps of my feet: who am to be consumed as rottenness, and as a garment that is moth-eaten.

Lesson v. Job. 14. (1.)

AN born of a woman, living for a short time, is filled with miseries. Who cometh forth like a flower, and is destroyed, and fleeth as a shadow, and never continueth in the same state. And dost thou think it meet to open thy eyes upon such an one, and to bring him into judgment with thee? Who can make him clean that is conceived of unclean seed? is it not thou who only art? The days of man are short, and the number of his months is with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds which cannot be passed. Depart a little from him, that he may rest, until his wished for day come, as that of the hireling.

Shall man that is dead, thinkest thou, live again? all the days in which I am now in warfare, I expect until my change come. Thou shalt call me, and I will answer thee: to the work of thy hands thou shalt reach out thy right hand. Thou indeed hast numbered my steps, but spare my sins.

Lesson vii. Job. 17. (1.)

Y spirit shall be wasted, my days shall be shortened, and only the grave remaineth for me. I have not sinned, and my eye abideth in bitterness. Deliver me O Lord, and set me beside thee, and let any man’s hand fight against me. My days have passed away, my thoughts are dissipated, tormenting my heart. They have turned night into day, and after darkness I hope for light again. If I wait hell is my house, and I have made my bed in the darkness. If I have said to rottenness: Thou art my father; to worms, my mother and my sister. Where is now then my expectation, and my patience? Thou O Lord art my God.

Lesson viii. Job. 19. (20.)

THE flesh being consumed, my bone hath cleaved to my skin, and nothing but lips are left about my teeth. Have pity on me, have pity on me, at least you my friends, because the hand of the Lord hath touched me. Why do ye persecute me as God, and glut yourselves with my flesh? Who will grant me that my words may be written? who will grant me that they may be marked down in a book? With an iron pen and in a plate of lead, or else graven with an instrument in flint stone. For I know that my Redeemer liveth, and in the last day I shall rise out of the earth. And I shall be clothed again with my skin, and in my flesh I will see my God. Whom I myself shall see, and my eyes shall behold, and not another: this my hope is laid up in my bosom.

Requiem eternum. AS:583; 1519-P:188r; 1531-P:53r.

HY didst thou bring me forth out of the womb: O that I had been consumed that eye might not see me! I should have been as if I had not been, carried from the womb to the grave. Shall not the fewness of my days be ended shortly? suffer me, therefore, that I may lament my sorrow a little: before I go, and return no more, to a land that is dark and covered with the mist of death: a land of misery and darkness, where the shadow of death, and no order, but everlasting horror dwelleth.

Kyrie eleyson.                Lord, have mercy.

Our Father. [5].

Ps. Lord, thou hast proved me. (cxxxviii.) [385].

V. Rest eternal grant unto them, O Lord.

[R.]: And let light [perpetual shine upon them].

V. From the gate of hell.

[R.]: Deliver [their souls], O Lord.

V. I believe to see [the goodness of the Lord].

[R.]: In the land [of the living].

[V.]: The Lord be with you.

[R.]: And with thy spirit.

[V.]: Let us pray.

Prayer.

O thee, O Lord, we commend the souls of thy servants and handmaidens, and all the faithful departed : that they being dead to this world, may live to thee : and what sins they have committed by frailty of conduct in this world, do away by the pardon of thy most merciful pity. Amen.

[†] May they rest in peace.
[‡] Amen.

Here endeth the Vigils of the Dead.

A Psalter most appropriate for chanting the Divine Office in Choir: according to the Use and Rite of the Church of Salisbury, containing Hymns, Antiphons, and Versicles, and Litanies, the Seven Penitential Psalms, and the Vigils of the Dead: together with the order of the Psalms with every ending and punctuation point clearly indicated: useful and convenient for all Priests. Completed in the nourishing University of Paris, at the expense of the honest man Francis Byrkman, citizen of Cologne.
Commentario Animarum.
