℣. Offer to God the sacrifice of praise.

℞. And pay thy vows to the most High.

First Lesson. (Rom. ij. 26.)

FF, then, the uncircumcised keep the justices of the law, shall not this uncircumcision be counted for circumcision ? And shall not that which by nature is uncircumcision, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the law ? For it is not he is a Jew, who is so outwardly, nor is that circumcision which is outwardly in the flesh : but he is a Jew, that is one inwardly ; and the circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter ; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

Auribus percipe Domine. AS:114; 1519:122v; 1531:66v.

1 Resp.

with my tongue. †For I am.

Second Lesson. (Rom. iij. 1.)

WHat advantage then hath the Jew, or what is the profit of circumcision ? Much every way. First indeed, because the words of God were committed to them. For what if some of them have not believed ? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect ? God forbid. But God is true, and every man a liar, as it is written, That thou mayest be justified in thy words, and mayest overcome when thou art judged.

Statuit Dominus. AS:114; 1519:122v; 1531:66v.<sup>25</sup> ten-tive to me. †And he hath.

Lesson iij. [Rom. iij. 5.]

BUT if our injustice commend the justice of God, what shall we say ? Is God unjust, who executeth wrath ? (I speak according to man.) God forbid : otherwise how shall God judge this world ? For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie, unto his glory, why am I also yet judged as a sinner ? And not rather, (as we are slandered, and as some affirm that we say) let us do evil, that there may come good ? whose damnation is just. But thou.

V. O God, I have declared unto thee my life.

R. Thou hast set my tears in thy sight.

Lesson j. (Rom. iij. 9.)

 Hat then ? Do we excel them ? No, not so. For we have charged both Jews, and Greeks, that they are all under sin. As it is written, There is not any man just. There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. All have turned out of the way, they are become unprofitable together : there is none that doth good, there is not so much as one.

Their throat is an open sepulchre ; with their tongues they have dealt deceitfully. The venom of asps is under their lips. Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness : their feet swift to shed blood : destruction and misery in their ways : and the way of peace they have not known : there is no fear of God before their eyes. But thou, O Lord.

Second Lesson. [Rom. iij. 19.]

NOW we know, that what things soever the law speaketh, it speaketh to them that are in the law ; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may be made subject to God. Because by the works of the law no flesh shall be justified before him. For by the law is the knowledge of sin. But now without the law the justice of God is made manifest, being witnessed by the law and the prophets. But thou, O Lord, have mercy [upon us].<sup>32</sup> [67r.]

O my glo-ry, a-rise psaltery and harp : I will a-rise ear- ly. †I will sing.

Third Lesson. [Rom. iij. 22.]

Even the justice of God, by faith of Jesus Christ, unto all and upon all them that believe in him : for there is no distinction : for all have sinned, and do need the glory of God. Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption, that is in Christ Jesus, whom God hath proposed to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to the shewing of his justice, for the remission of former sins, through the forbearance of God, for the shewing of justice in this time ; that he himself may be just, and the justifier of him, who is of the faith of Jesus Christ.

Adjutor meus. AS:117; 1519:124r; 1531:67r.

3. Resp.

And the other Antiphons together with their Psalms that are indicated at that place in the Psalter.

℣. My lips shall rejoice when I sing unto thee.

℟. And my soul which thou hast redeemed.

First Lesson. (Rom. iij. 27.)

Here is then thy boasting ?
It is excluded. By what law ?
Of works ? No, but by the law of faith. For we account a man to be justified by faith without the works of the law. Is he the God of the Jews only ? Is he not also of the Gentiles ? Yes, of the Gentiles also.

For it is one God, that justifieth
circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

†In thy jus- tice.

Lesson ij. (Rom. iij. 31.)<sup>40</sup>

DO we, then, destroy the law through faith ? God forbid : but we establish the law. What shall we say then that Abraham hath found, who is our father according to the flesh. For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory, but not before God. For what saith the scripture ? Abraham believed God, and it was reputed to him unto justice.

do not thou forsake me. ℣. My lips shall greatly rejoice when I shall sing to thee : and my soul which thou hast re-deem- ed. †When my strength.

Lesson iij. (Rom. iv. 4.)

NOW to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned according to grace, but according to debt. But to him that worketh not, yet believeth in him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reputed to justice, according to the purpose of the grace of God. As David also termeth the blessedness of a man, unto whom God reputeth justice without works : Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

Blessed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin. This blessedness then, doth it remain in the circumcision only, or in the uncircumcision also ? For we say that unto Abraham faith was reputed to justice. How then was it reputed ? When he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision ? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. But thou, O Lord.

ND he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the justice of the faith, which he had, being uncircumcised ; that he might be the father of all them that believe, being uncircumcised, that unto them also it may be reputed to justice : and might be the father of circumcision, not to them only, that are of the circumcision, but to them also that follow the steps of the faithful, that is in the uncircumcision of our father Abraham.

FOR not through the law was the promise to Abraham, or to his seed, that he should be heir of the world ; but through the justice of faith. For if they who are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, the promise is made of no effect. For the law worketh wrath. For where there is no law, neither is there transgression. But thou, O Lord.
