[The Gospel]18 according to John, xvii. (5-15.) [Lesson i.]

At that time, Jesus said unto his disciples, I go to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? And that which followeth.

A Homily of the Venerable Bede, Priest.

(6. Second Book.)19

As we have heard from the Gospel reading, dearly beloved brethren, our Lord and Redeemer, when the moment of his passion was near, disclosed to the disciples both the glory of the ascension by which after <his> death and resurrection he might be glorified: and the coming of the Holy Ghost by which they were to be illumined. This was so that with the hour of his passion drawing nigh they might grieve less for his death, whom they would not doubt would be raised up to heaven after death: they would be less afraid of their desolation, who, granted that the Lord was going away, would hope to be consoled by the gift of the Holy Ghost.

Si oblitus fueris. AS:260; 1519:242v; 1531:141v.20

Second Lesson.

I go (he saith) to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? As if he openly saith, By <my> ascension I am returning to him who determined that I was to become incarnate, and so great and so evident shall be the brilliance of the same ascension: that there shall be no need for any of you to ask where I shall go, with all of you seeing that I shall go to heaven. But it is good that when he had said regarding <his> ascension, I go to him that sent me, he added, And none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? Inasmuch as earlier when he was testifying concerning his passion saying, Whither I go you cannot come: Peter questioned him and said, Lord, whither goest thou? And it was answered to him, Whither I go you cannot follow me now: but you shall follow later. Because no doubt the mystery of <his> passion and death they were not yet able to understand, they were not yet able to imitate: to be sure they recognized the majesty of <his> ascension as soon as they had seen it, and they wished with complete devotion of mind that they might merit to follow <him>.

But.

Thy lightnings enlightened the world: the earth shook and trembled.

Third Lesson.

Ut because I have spoken these things to you, sorrow hath filled your heart. The Lord himself knew what these his words would cause in the hearts of the disciples: because evidently they would produce greater sadness over his departure by which he would abandon them, than delight with regard to his ascension by which he would entreat the Father. Hence kindly consoling he subjoined, But I tell you the truth: it is expedient to you that I go. It is expedient that the form of a servant should be withdrawn from your sight: so that the love of divinity may be fixed more firmly in your minds. It is expedient that <my> form, familiar to you, I should take to heaven, that by this you may sigh with greater desire: and thus with your hearts raised up to things celestial, you may become capable of receiving the gifts of the Holy Ghost.

V. The Lord is risen. 1331.

Lesson j. James j. (1.)

James the servant of God and of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

My brethren, count it all joy, when you shall fall into divers temptations; knowing that the trying of your faith worketh patience. And patience hath a perfect work, that you may be perfect and entire, failing in nothing. But if any of you want wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to all men abundantly, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea, which is moved and carried about by the wind. Therefore let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord. A double minded man is inconstant in all his ways. But let the brother of low condition glory in his exaltation: and the rich, in his being low, because as the flower of the grass shall he pass away. For the sun rose with a burning heat, and parched the grass, and the flower thereof fell off, and the beauty of the shape thereof perished: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways. But thou, O Lord.

Narrabo nomen tuum. AS:261; 1519:244r; 1531:142r.

†Will I praise thee, al-le-lu-ya, al-le-lu-ya.

V. I will give the thanks in the great congre-ga-tion:

among much peo-ple. †Will I.

Second Lesson. (James j. 12.)

Lessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he hath been proved, he shall receive a crown of life, which God hath promised to them that love him. Let no man, when he is tempted, say that he is tempted of God. For God is not a tempter of evile, and he tempteth no man. But every man is tempted by his own concupiscence, being drawn and allured. Then when concupiscence hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin. But sin, when it is completed, begetteth death. But thou.

In toto corde meo. AS:262; 1519:244r; 1531:142r.27

Thy words have I hidden in my heart: that I may not sin against thee. †O let me not.

Lesson iii. (James j. 16.)

Do not err, therefore, my dearest brethren. Every best gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom is no change, nor shadow of alteration. For of his own will hath he begotten us by the word of truth, that we might be some beginning of his creature. You know, my dearest brethren. And let every man be swift to hear, but slow to speak, and slow to anger. For the anger of man worketh not the justice of God. But thou.

Herefore casting away all uncleanness, and abundance of naughtiness, with meekness receive the ingrafted word, which is able to save your souls. But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. For if a man be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he shall be compared to a man beholding his own countenance in a glass. For he beheld himself, and went his way, and presently forgot what manner of man he was. But he that hath looked into the perfect law of liberty, and hath continued therein, not becoming a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work; this man shall be blessed in his deed.

And if any man think himself to be religious, not bridling his tongue, but deceiving his own heart, this man’s religion is vain. Religion clean and undefiled before God and the Father, is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their tribulation: and to keep one’s self unspotted from this world.

Lesson iij. James ii. (1.)

Y brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ of glory with respect of persons. For if there shall come into your assembly a man having a golden ring, in fine apparel, and there shall come in also a poor man in mean attire, and you have respect to him that is clothed with fine apparel, and shall say to him: Sit thou here well; but say to the poor man: Stand thou there, or sit under my footstool: do you not judge within yourselves, and are become judges of unjust thoughts? Hearken, my dearest brethren: hath not God chosen the poor in this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which God hath promised to them that love him? But you have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich oppress you by might? and do not they draw you before the judgment seats? Do not they blaspheme the good name that is invoked upon you? But thou, O Lord.

Second Lesson. (James i. 14.)

Hat shall it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, but hath not works? Shall faith be able to save him? And if a brother or sister be naked, and want daily food: and one of you say to them: Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; yet give them not those things that are necessary for the body, what shall it profit? So faith also, if it have not works, is dead in itself.

Lesson iii. (James i. 18.)

Ut some man will say: Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee, by woks, my faith. Thou believest that there is one God. Thou dost well: the devils also believe and tremble. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, offering up Isaac his son upon the altar? Seest thou, that faith did co-operate with his works, and by works faith was made perfect? And the scripture was fulfilled, saying, Abraham believed God, and it was reputed to him to justice, and he was called the friend of God. Do you see that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only? And in like manner also Rahab the harlot, was not she justified by works, receiving the messengers, and sending them out another way? For even as the
