

Supplementary Information

Geranda Notten, Fatima Tuz Zohora, Charles Plante, Rachel Laforest. "Two decades of poverty reduction politics benefited single parent families." CRDCN research-policy snapshots. Volume 3 Issue 2 July 2024

Figure: Poverty differences, Canada, 1999-2017, by poverty threshold

Source: SLID (1999-2011) and CIS (2012-2017). Authors' calculations.

Notes: Low Income Measure (LIM). Inflation Adjusted Low Income Measure (LIM-08, 2008 base). The poverty difference of 20 for single parent families in 2017 (LIM-08) means that the poverty rate of this group is 20 percentage points higher than that of the reference group, consisting of a household of multiple adults and no dependent children. Each poverty difference is a coefficient identifying individuals living in single parent families / as single working age adults. The confidence interval is based on bootstrapped standard errors.